Valencia Condominium Association

OWNER DELINQUENCY AND RENTAL PROCEEDS

Recent Legislative changes have given the Authority to Condominium Associations to collect rent directly from the renter when the owner is delinquent.

Section 718.716(11): Assessments: Tenant Occupancy: Where an owner delinquent in any monetary obligation to the association, the association can make a demand for the tenant to pay the association the future monetary obligations related to the condominium unit owed to the association. The demand must be in writing. If the tenant fails to comply, the Association may have the tenant evicted in accordance with Florida Statutes Chapter 83. The unit owner shall give the tenant a credit against rent due to unit owner for any amounts paid by the tenant to the association.

The owner cannot have you evicted for non- payment of rent. They must give you credit for the payments made to the Association. However, the Association CAN evict a renter for non-compliance and non-payment of rental proceeds to the Association.

If the owner of the unit you are renting becomes delinquent, you may be asked to pay your rent to the Association instead of the owner. The Association will only collect money until the maintenance and fees are paid in full. Once the owner is at a zero balance, the rent money can be paid directly to the Owner again.

Both parties will be notified in writing that all rental proceeds must be paid directly to the Association when the owner becomes delinquent and again once the debt is cleared.

By signing below, you are acknowledging that you have been informed of this legislation and agree to comply if you receive this notice from your Association.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Here is a summary of your major rights under FCRA. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, DC 20552.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you. Anyone who uses a credit report or another type of consumer report to deny your application for credit, insurance, or employment – or to take another adverse action against you – must tell you, and must give you the name, address, and phone number of the agency that provided the information.
- You have the right to know what is in your file. You may request and obtain all the information about you in the files of a consumer reporting agency (your “file disclosure”). You will be required to provide proper identification, which may include your Social Security number. In many cases, the disclosure will be free. You are entitled to a free file disclosure if:
 - a person has taken adverse action against you because of information in your credit report;
 - you are the victim of identity theft and place a fraud alert in your file;
 - your file contains inaccurate information as a result of fraud;
 - you are on public assistance;
 - you are unemployed but expect to apply for employment within 60 days.

In addition, all consumers are entitled to one free disclosure every 12 months upon request from each nationwide credit bureau and from nationwide specialty consumer reporting agencies. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for additional information.

- You have the right to ask for a credit score. Credit scores are numerical summaries of your credit-worthiness based on information from credit bureaus. You may request a credit score from consumer reporting agencies that create scores or distribute scores used in residential real property loans, but you will have to pay for it. In some mortgage transactions, you will receive credit score information for free from the mortgage lender.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. If you identify information in your file that is incomplete or inaccurate, and report it to the consumer reporting agency, the agency must investigate unless your dispute is frivolous. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for an explanation of dispute procedures.

- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. Inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information must be removed or corrected, usually within 30 days. However, a consumer reporting agency may continue to report information it has verified as accurate.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information. In most cases, a consumer reporting agency may not report negative information that is more than seven years old, or bankruptcies that are more than 10 years old.
- Access to your file is limited. A consumer reporting agency may provide information about you only to people with a valid need – usually to consider an application with a creditor, insurer, employer, landlord, or other business. The FCRA specifies those with a valid need for access.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers. A consumer reporting agency may not give out information about you to your employer, or a potential employer, without your written consent given to the employer. Written consent generally is not required in the trucking industry. For more information, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.
- You may limit “prescreened” offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report. Unsolicited “prescreened” offers for credit and insurance must include a toll-free phone number you can call if you choose to remove your name and address from the lists these offers are based on. You may opt out with the nationwide credit bureaus at 1-888-5-OPTOUT (1-888-567-8688).
- The following FCRA right applies with respect to nationwide consumer reporting agencies:

CONSUMERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO OBTAIN A SECURITY FREEZE

You have a right to place a “security freeze” on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization. The security freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a security freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit.

As an alternative to a security freeze, you have the right to place an initial or extended fraud alert on your credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting 7 years.

A security freeze does not apply to a person or entity, or its affiliates, or collection agencies acting on behalf of the person or entity, with which you have an existing account that requests information in your credit report for the purposes of reviewing or collecting the account. Reviewing the account includes activities related to account maintenance, monitoring, credit line increases, and account upgrades and enhancements.

- You may seek damages from violators. If a consumer reporting agency, or, in some cases, a user of consumer reports or a furnisher of information to a consumer reporting agency violates the FCRA, you may be able to sue in state or federal court.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights. For more information, visit www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.

States may enforce the FCRA, and many states have their own consumer reporting laws. In some cases, you may have more rights under state law. For more information, contact your state or local consumer protection agency or your state Attorney General. For information about your federal rights, contact:

Valencia Area Condominium Association

Welcome to Valencia Area Condominium Association. We hope you enjoy living here as much as we do. To make your move to our area as easy as possible, we have put this quick reference guide together for you.

Board Meetings

Valencia area has nine walks. Each walk has its own budget and walk Directors. They report to the Executive Board at the monthly meetings. Our Board meetings take place on the second Thursday of the month from September through May at 9:30. We meet in the Monaco Clubhouse. We are also using a remote platform for you to join if you are not on property. Agendas for the meetings are posted at least 48 hours in advance on both the association website and by the mailboxes. All owners have the right to speak for three minutes on any agenda item at the meeting.

Annual Owners Meeting

This meeting takes place in December usually on a weekend so that many of the owners can participate. It is held by the mailbox area. Owners have a forum to discuss the upcoming year, any concerns or questions they may have, or what they feel the Walk Director should be focusing on at the meetings. The date and time are sent out via mail and will be posted on both the web and in the mailbox area.

Budgets

Budgets are walk specific. So don't worry if your friend on another walk is not paying the exact amount you are. We all started from slightly different funding points but we all cover the same items. The Board begins work on the budget in August. You will be sent a fully funded and partially funded version of the budget for you to vote on. After you vote on your preference, the Board votes as a whole in the November meeting to adopt the following year's budget. Coupons are then printed and sent out to all of the owners for payment.

Walk Directors

Your Walk Directors are your point of contact for any condo related issues you may have. The exception is an issue related to your maintenance account. The issues which Valencia is responsible for are roofing, walkway, landscaping, trimming, irrigation, plumbing from the outer wall to the main and parking. Please do not call our vendors and initiate any repairs on your own. This will create issues in paying the vendors for their work. If you have a landscaping issue please discuss it with your Walk Director not the landscaping crew.

You are responsible for anything inside your unit from the studs in as well as doors, windows, A/C electrical and plumbing.

Architectural Modifications to Unit or Surrounding Landscaping

If you as an owner wish to modify your unit you must complete and submit an Architectural Modification Form prior to the work starting. You can download this form or complete it on the management website. All vendor licenses and insurance must be submitted with the form. Your Director will approve the completed application after they receive it from the management company. Only then can you begin the work.

Landscaping changes must also be approved. Please remember this is a condo and you do not own anything outside of the inner walls of your unit. Any landscaping you may wish to add to enhance the appearance of the unit is considered a gift or donation to the association. You must complete an application and follow the guidelines on approved types of plantings. All planting must be put completely in the ground. No planters are permitted. Once the plantings are in place the association's landscapers will be maintaining them.

Trash

Garbage should be placed in your walks' receptacles. NO construction garbage is permitted in walk dumpsters. Bulk pickup should only be placed by the dumpster on Monday evening for our Tuesday morning pickup. Placing the items there is so very unsightly for everyone living here.

Outdoor Light

It is the unit owners responsibility to leave the switch for the outside light next to the front door on at all times. The lights are on a sensor and go on at dusk and off at dawn.

Water

You are responsible for your water bill so please open an account to PBCWD as soon as possible. We strongly suggest that when you are out of town you shut the water off to your unit. The main shutoff valve is located in the chase-way between the units. This will prevent any flooding issue which may occur when you are not home.
